

I think small group work (in teams of 4-6) in US university classes is...

common. | not common.

Students who disagree here think "Small group work (in teams of 4-6) is a common type of classwork in US classes."

Students who feel rather strongly that US students wouldn't be surprised by a lecturer (n=98) vs.

students who feel rather strongly that US students would think of a lecturer as strange and unusual (n=99). The p-value here is 0.002199 and the phi-coefficient/Cramer's V is: 0.218

Students who think US uni students would not be surprised by a lecturer (n=238) vs.

students who think US uni students would regard a lecturer as strange or unusual (n=230). The p-value here is 0.0001684 and the phi-coefficient/Cramer's V is: 0.174

Students who think office hour visits are common in US uni (n=395) vs.

students who do not think office hour visits are common (n=73). The p-value here is 0.001062 and the phi-coefficient/Cramer's V is: 0.151

Students who think informal debate is a common activity in US uni classes (n=370) vs.

students who think informal debate is not a common class activity (n=98). The p-value here is 0.00396 and the phi-coefficient/Cramer's V is: 0.133

